Grand Blanc Man Killed in Lovells Auto Accident

A 24-year old Grand Blanc man died early Sunday morning from injuries he sustained when the car he was a passenger in rolled over on Lovells Road, about three miles south of Lovells.

Ronald Dahl was found dead at the scene by Crawford County Sheriff deputies. The driver of the car, Richard Lancaster, 32, of Grayling, was seriously injured in the accident and was transported from a nearby residence to Mercy Hospital by ambulance where he was listed in fair condition.

The accident occurred at about 5:40 a.m. Sunday, April 29, and was discovered by a Traverse City Record Eagle delivery person. The delivery person took Lancaster to a nearby residence and notified the Sheriff Dept. of the accident.

According to the police, neither the driver nor his passenger were wearing seatbelts and both were thrown from the car. They suspect alcohol was involved.

Sheriff deputies were assisted at the scene by an accident investigator from the Gaylord State Police Post and the accident continues under investigation by the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. Once the investigation is completed, the Sheriff Dept. said the case will be turned over to the Crawford County prosecutor's office for possible criminal charges. No citations have been issued at this time.

WARM TROUT OPENER--One of the warmest Opening Days ever brought out shirtless fishermen, a big contrast to April openers with snow

Weather, Not Fishing, Exceptional for Opener

"The weather was spectacular, the bugs were plentiful, the fish files were spectacular, and the fish weren't hungry."

Those comments from Pete Stephan, Grayling's police chief and river guide, pretty much summed up last weekend's trout opener.

Stephan said his party fished from Chase Bridge to Smith Bridge on the South Branch of the AuSable River on Saturday and found only light fishing pressure. On Sunday, they floated from Thendara to Townline on the mainstream, fishing from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and during the whole distance, successfully caught and released only one fish. Two others "got away" before they got them into the boat.

Stephen said on Sunday they found only light fishing pressure on the mainstream.

"It was a beautiful two days on the river," Stephan said. "We saw some spectacular Hendrickson hatches and a few stones, but no hungry fish."

GHS Band Earns Top Rating at State Festival

By Nancy Lemmen

The Grayling High School Band earned its very first I (Superior) rating at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's (M.S.B.O.A.) State Band Festival in Class C competition on April 28.

"The students came through even with the odds against them," said GHS Band Director Dennis Ormsbee. "We had four rehearsals before State competition after having 11 days off for Easter vacation."

They "tired near the end of the performance," he continued. "The temperature was a big obstacle in the performance and sight reading room. It must have been above the 90 degree mark in those two rooms."

For State, Mr. Ormsbee chose "Patric Fideles," arranged by Barker; "The Lion of Lucerne," by James Curnow; and "Heral-die Legend," by Elliott Del Borgo. The first and third pieces are different than those the band played in District competition in March, so they spent much of the past few weeks learning their new music.

One impressed parent added, "Dennis has them learn such difficult music for their performance that the sight reading piece was easy for them."

"I am very proud of the students. . . . We have come a long way in the last few years and (they) are ready to go on to higher accomplishments. It is great to be part of this organization," enthused Director Ormsbee.

Of the four adjudicators rating the GHS band, three returned I (the highest possible) ratings and one rated the performance a II (the second highest rating).

The judges appeared impressed with the high confidence level displayed by GHS. "The band plays with confidence," wrote one judge on the critique form. "Keep working and listening to your director. He is coaching you well." Another said, "Band plays with good confidence - so important."

Both the adjudicators and the director were appreciative of the support shown by the band's many followers, who watched the 10:50 a.m. performance at Roscommon High School on Saturday. "Wow," wrote one judge in his comments, "How nice to have the home town folks here."

Mr. Ormsbee extended "a big thanks to the supporters at Roscommon. It was just super to see (them) there. The applause was much appreciated."

Perhaps one judge's final comments best summarize the band's experience at the 1990 State Festival and the response of its supporters when he wrote: "Fine band - good training, careful preparation. Congratulations."

GHS BAND IS SUPERIOR--The Grayling High School Band received its best ever rating at the state band festival.

Twp. Planning Commission, Fair Board Split on Zoning Issue

Leasing the Crawford County Fairgrounds to a pipeline construction company has caused problems between the Grayling Twp. Planning Commission and the Crawford County Fair Board.

The Grayling Township Planning Commission voted unanimously on Tuesday, April 24, to suspend the Crawford County Fair Board's conditional use permit. They cited four violations of the conditional use permit including leasing the fairground property for a contractor's yard without requesting permission from the Township Planning Commission, the installation of a "moto-cross" type track on the premises without separate prior approval of the planning commission, as required, failure to plant trees, which the Fair Board promised to do by May, 1989, and failure to remove stumps and brush as promised in 1989.

The Fair Board was notified by Township Supervisor Arnold Stencil in a letter, dated March 27, 1990, that it was in violation of its conditional use permit. The letter informed the board that the township had received several complaints from residents living near the fairgrounds claiming it was an unsightly mess. The letter further stated the township Planning Commission would be holding its annual review of the Fair Board's use permit on April 24th and asked that a representative of the Fair Board be present.

No one from the Fair Board was able to attend the meeting.

After the Planning Commission took action April 24, the Fair Board met Sunday, April 29, and asked someone from the township to attend. No one from the township was able to.

Concerning leasing the property during the off season, the Fair Board said there is nothing in their conditional use permit or public use deed from the state of Michigan that prevents them from using the land to earn money for the benefit of the fair. The Crawford County Board of Commissioners, who hold the deed to the land, were informed of the lease agreement with Welded Construction in October and gave their approval by an unanimous vote 7-0 to lease the fairgrounds for ten months.

Fair Board Member Tom Davis said the Fair Board did not notify the Planning Commission prior to the construction of the moto-cross track and had received permission to proceed with the project.

Fair Board Member Rick Davis said 110 trees were planted last fall. He said the trees ranged from three to four feet in height.

Stump and brush removal, explained Davis, is a costly and time-consuming business.

"Our only revenue is the $1 fair admission and our percentage of the carnival," said Davis. "We are working at it as best we can."

Davis said Duane Brooks and a crew from Camp Lehman have burned some of the stumps and brush, and they are now waiting for permission from the DNR to bury the ash.

When asked about the unsecured moto-cross track and contractor's yard, the Fair Board stated that nearly every year the fairground has suffered some type of vandalism. This year with Welded Construction on the premises, they said there was no vandalism.

Davis said the Fair Board was working towards building a year round facility on the 40-acre fairgrounds with Little League fields, two soccer fields, and possibly an ice skating rink during the winter. He said the $5,000 the Fair Board received by leasing the land will help them achieve these goals.

The Fair Board said they are attempting to comply with their conditional use permit with Grayling Township.

"The township has been lenient with the Fair Board because they are a group of volunteers involved in a community effort with very little money," said Stencil. "But we also have the responsibility to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the township's residents."

Stencil said if the Fair Board would have asked him whether they could use the property for a contractor's yard he would have told them no and would have suggested they go to the Planning Commission and see if they would approve that use of the land. "They didn't do that," he said.

Using the fairground for a contractor's yard not only violates the Fair Board's use permit, explained Stencil, but it also violates zoning regulations for the area. He said the area is zoned commercial one for the first 400 feet back from Old 27 and recreational forest for the land behind the fronting property.

Stencil said he was concerned that the unfenced moto-cross track and unsecured contractor's yard could be considered an attractive nuisance opening the county for law suits should someone be injured while using the track or climbing on the equipment.

If the Fair Board took steps to get the equipment off the fairgrounds immediately, Stencil said the township would be more than willing to work with the Fair Board to straighten out the remainder of the violations.

Mr. John Roberts and Bob Seebeck from Welded Construction of Perrysburg, Ohio, were also present at the Sunday Fair Board meeting. Seebeck said MTI Environmental Services, an environmental consulting firm from Mt. Pleasant, was hired to make recommendations and oversee the clean-up of the oil and diesel fuel spills that had occurred on the fairgrounds property over the winter months while Welded Construction has leased the property.

Seebeck said the biggest spill occurred on a 750 sq. ft. area near the front of the pole building. He said Jack Millikin was hired to remove the soil and take it to the Charlevoix Land Fill. Millikin's dug down about 4 1/2 feet until they hit water. Soil and water samples were taken from the area. Seebeck said results of the soil samples are not back yet, but he said water sample test results showed no contamination.

Plastic sheeting had been laid on the ground where their vehicles filled their gas tanks in an effort to prevent contamination, but Roberts explained that the plastic was concealed by snow during the winter months and the contamination was not discovered until the snow left this spring revealing the fuel stained ground.

Roberts said Welded Construction would pay for the clean-up costs of the oil and gas contamination that occurred as a result of their leasing the property, even if it entails monitoring wells. He said they had been working with the DNR to clean-up the area, and would continue to do so until the DNR considered the remediation complete.

Seebeck said soil removal cost his company about $5,000 and estimated it will spend another $5,000 to MTI Environmental Services before all the sampling is finished.

Welded Construction began using the fairground property last November. In addition to the $5,000 Welded paid to the Fair Board for leasing the area, the company has agreed to do some clearing for baseball and soccer fields and assist with stump removal that Fair Board Member John Hunter estimated would cost the community several thousands of dollars if they had to contract the work out.

On May 21, 1986, the state of Michigan deeded the property known as the Crawford County Fairgrounds to the Crawford County for one dollar with the stipulation that when the property is no longer needed by the county for a fairgrounds, the title will revert to the state. The county then entered into an agreement with the Fair Association for use of the property.

Roland Harnes, Jr., Chief of the DNR Land Division, said the fairground land has a public use deed, and in his opinion, any money derived from the land belongs to the state of Michigan. He said he was taking the matter to the Attorney General's office for an opinion.

"It didn't look proper, so we brought it to the county's attention," he said. "We are now trying to work with the County Fair Board to get the problem resolved. I believe common sense will prevail."

The Fair Board disagrees with the DNR's interpretation of the deed and a meeting had been set up with the Fair Board, DNR, and state ombudsman but the state cancelled and the Fair Board heard no more from the state until the DNR contacted the county regarding the fuel spills.

Linda Stephens, chairperson of the Grayling Township Planning Commission, said the Fair Board has repeatedly ignored the conditions set forth in the use permit and has failed to meet with the planning commission despite several opportunities. Stephens said the Fair Board has to conform to its conditional use permit and that does not include leasing the land for a contractor's yard. She said zoning laws and conditional use permits exist for safety reasons and to protect both the land and surrounding property owners.

The Crawford County Fair Board is made up entirely of volunteers from this community, many who have helped develop the Fair into a success from its birth 8 years ago. These volunteers have built a bright future for the fairgrounds. Soccer and baseball fields for area youth will soon be added to the fairgrounds, and the 1990 Fair, set for July 18-21, is also looking to be the best Fair so far.

The Crawford County Fair is well received by the community and by many businesses. The Crawford County Avalanche, for example, has been a supporter of the Fair since its start. Over the years, we've donated tickets, advertised in the premium book, helped print the premium book, and donated full page ads promoting events at the Fair. We've published news stories explaining the Fair Board's Master Plan for the fairgrounds and we've ran several picture pages highlighting Fair activities. This year, we're donating supplies and the use of our Macintosh computers for Fair publicity and designing ads for the premium book. Other local businesses have also been supporting the Fair right from its beginning.

The Grayling Township Planning Commission, like the County Fair Board, is also made up of civic-minded community members. Their duties often put them in the middle of zoning issues that are difficult and emotional. Both sides in a dispute want it their way and have good, sound reasons for feeling that way. I was in the middle of many zoning disputes when I used to serve on both the county and township planning commissions.

At the center of a current zoning issue is the question of the county fairgrounds being leased to Welded Construction, of Perryburg, Ohio, for ten months.

The fairgrounds is currently not being used most of the year and the site was practical for the company. In return for using the fairgrounds to store their equipment, the company is paying a total of $5,000 in rent. Anyone who has ever worked on a non-profit organization in this county will know how important a contribution like this can be. The company also agreed to perform some field construction work for the fairgrounds. Its presence at the fairgrounds also stopped a vandalism problem that had hit some fairground buildings in years past.

The company's presence, however, was also noticed by neighbors who questioned why the company could use an area not zoned for heavy commercial use. The company also had some small gasoline spills at the fairgrounds over the winter, which it says are now cleaned up. (An article on page 3 has details on this and other items.)

The central issue still seems to be the leasing of the fairgrounds to this construction company. There is no way around the fact that there are local people on both sides — yes, it's okay to lease; no, it isn't.

People may be split on this issue but it should be considered that there are good folks involved on both sides, people who care about what's best for Crawford County.

I'm looking for the two boards to get together soon and work something out. It might not be easy but it's an issue that needs to be ironed out so the Fair Board and the Township Planning Commission can return to achieving both their goals: a fairgrounds that is the best we can make it for our youth, families, and residents. This is what most Crawford County residents want.

Letters to the Editor

Reader Challenges Taxpayers To Question Commissioners' Actions

This letter is written as a challenge to every taxpayer in this county to scrutinize and question their county commissioners about the actions that were taken at their meeting of 4/26/90, relative to the increase in state equalized value.

I have always considered myself as a supporter of my community, I have paid my taxes, supported every single educational millage, as part of my responsibility, but the manner in which the vote for an increase in state equalized value was handled, should make every taxpayer as angry and frustrated as I felt, when I realized that the sequence of events allowed for no constituent input, and in fact was not publicized until the afternoon before the scheduled meeting. The article appeared in the Avalanche, which was distributed Wednesday afternoon - how many people actually get and read their paper the first day of publication? There is no reason why this could not have been released the previous week. It also comes on the heels of a land value increase in January.

I have never belonged to a citizen's tax organization. I have always considered them to be too right wing, but after this travesty I believe that I will seriously consider that option.

I would challenge each reader to ask the following questions:

Why was this proposal not publicized in time for constituent input?

How did your county commissioner vote? (The vote was five for, two against.)

Where was your township supervisor? Did they represent you, and at least suggest the proposal be tabled until they could assess voter reaction?

Recognizing that the actions taken were within the authority of the commission, I feel that it shows a total lack of concern for the inevitable reactions that would occur. We are, after all, "We the People," and this proposal was more than just normal business which the commission confronts each month. It was more than just the perfunctory passage of county administrative issues. If you do not speak out, make no mistake, this will happen again!

Remember, your county commissioner did have a choice.

Chamber Interested In Developing N. Down River - I-75 Exchange

To Mr. William L. Carey, Atty.:

The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce appreciates your most recent "Letter to the Editor" which appeared in the Crawford County Avalanche on Wednesday, April 11, 1990. It seems obvious that if you have questions, being a local business professional, than others in the community may also be unaware of the issues behind the Chamber's interest in developing the existing North Down River Road Exit Ramp # 256.

In your letter you addressed two key points:

1. Why a North bound exit ramp from I-75 to North Down River Road would not adequately address the problem of routing North bound military traffic headed to MATES past the city proper of Grayling?

The fact of the matter is that a full exchange is the only option to be considered with the Michigan Department of Transportation. It was made very clear during the Chamber meeting with MDOT representative Mr. Hartwig that the State is not interested in funding a "partial exchange project."

A major concern is, that by constructing a partial exchange (ie: a north bound ramp on to North Down River Road) you do not resolve the other issues such as: alleviating delivery trucking to the commercial businesses and contractors that are located off North Down River Road (ie: Millikin, Georgia Pacific, Weyerhaeuser, Carlisle Paddle Co., Consumers Power, CSI, Car Dealers and Etc.).

Currently this traffic is routed via I-75 business loop - an important safety issue. The goal is to alleviate the already congested I-75 business loop - which is nearing capacity traffic flow (especially during the peak summer months) and finally, equally important, is the effort to provide a more fluid path of travel for the increasing number of tourists to the Grayling Area - again a very important safety issue based on the confusion and aggravation Grayling's two existing partial exchanges cause our guests.

2. Why doesn't the military utilize the Military Road exit and the Four Mile Road exit on all traffic coming to and from Camp Grayling to I-75?

In reality Bill, they do. However, the larger vehicles and troops heading to the MATES facility, east of Grayling, account for the majority of military traffic routed directly through town. Which is precisely the justification behind the need for a North Bound exit on to North Down River Road as mentioned in your previous question.

On behalf of the Board of Directors we certainly hope these explanations have answered your - and others - questions. If there are others in the community that have specific questions about the proposed North Down River Road Exchange please contact the Chamber Office, #348-2921 and ask for Skip, Transportation Committee Chairman, or myself.

More Than 100 Volunteers Have Helped River House

Letter to the Editor:

As a Volunteer Coordinator for River House Shelter since 1986, I have worked with well over 100 volunteers. The reasons they volunteered varied; some were former victims or knew the victims personally; some needed work experience or were fulfilling college credit requirements, while others only wanted to do something to help.

Each volunteer has their own story to tell and every volunteer is special. All of the River House Volunteers have something in common; they have given of themselves and asked little in return. Although the volunteers say that their rewards are found in the smile of a child or a hug from a shelter resident, we at River House feel they deserve public recognition.

Each year one week in the month of April is designated "National Volunteer Recognition Week." This year River House Shelter hosted a volunteer recognition luncheon at the Ralph MacMullen Conference Center to honor the many individuals who have supported the shelter through the volunteer program.

The River House volunteer program includes individuals from the four counties we serve (Crawford, Oscoda, Ogemaw, and Roscommon), as well as volunteers from the Department of Social Services, R.S.V.P., Foster Grandparents, and the young men from Shawano Center.

The staff of River House Shelter is thankful for every individual who has helped make someone else's world a little better by giving of themselves through the River House Shelter program during these past three years.

Almanac

By Richard Milliman

It's hard to be humble

BIG TIME SPORTS these days is big business. Latest witness to that claim is a college junior named Jeff George, who will be paid some $15 million over the next six years to play football — or sit on the bench — for the Indianapolis Colts of the National Football League.

Mr. George, who has been around the Big Ten for several years, has not even finished college, yet he commands huge sums for latent talents and promise.

That's not unusual. Jeff George is only the latest multimillionaire who has profited from America's system of big time athletics. Don Mattingly and Mark Langston of baseball, Magic Johnson and Michael Jordan of basketball, Troy Aikman and Barry Sanders of football, plus others in hockey, golf, tennis, boxing — the woods are full of them.

It must be tough to be humble when you're hauling down megabucks playing games. A basketball player named Charles Barkley is a case in point. After instigating a huge free-for-all during a Philadelphia 76ers and Detroit Pistons game recently, Mr. Barkley faced penalty with equanimity. What real difference did it make, he reasoned, to face a few thousand dollars for a fine when he's paid some $3 million a year. So what?

YES, IT MUST BE hard to be humble — difficult, but not impossible.

There's Orel Hershisser, the pitching ace for the Los Angeles Dodgers, who a year ago was the highest paid professional baseball player, after he signed for $7.9 million for three seasons. Since then, of course, Mark Langston and Don Mattingly and others have passed that mark by huge sums.

"The arena around me has changed, so people perceive that I'm changing; but I don't know if anything changed after the contract," Mr. Hershisser said at the time.

"I'm making a really solid, conscious effort not to change. I want to remember the place I came from — my roots."

"It's crazy. I can't comprehend that kind of money. It becomes numbers on a piece of paper. You can only drive one car, live in one house, eat one meal at a time. After that, your savings account just gets bigger."

Let's hope Orel Hershisser maintains those attitudes.

AND THERE'S RICKY BIRDSONG, basketball coach at University of Detroit, who has filled two years of a four year contract. Mr. Birdsong is trying to lead Detroit back to basketball respectability, with modest but promising results so far.

University of Arkansas at Little Rock came calling on Mr. Birdsong. Looking for a new coach, Arkansas dangled a huge compensation increase, and other enticements. At U. of D., Mr. Birdsong is paid about $65,000 a year; the Little Rock package was worth about $125,000.

ALL ABOUT TOWN

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

It looks like old man winter has finally released its grasp. It sure seems nice to be greeted by sunny skies and warm breezes. The grass is greening up, those trees that had looked dead are showing signs of life. Soon our eyes can feast on the beauty of flowers and our noses will detect the perfume of their blooms. Spring is such a beautiful time of year, it's like payment for enduring the long cold winter. It's wonderful to just be able to stroll around town without all the paraphernalia we had to wear all winter. Soon folks will be saying they wish it would cool off. I guess man is never satisfied with things as they are, but always wishes for some thing different. Just human nature I guess.

I hope by the time this appears in the paper I've had a meal or two of brook trout and stuffed myself with those good morel mushrooms. I'm hoping that the woods will be full of them this year. Could be, as this is more the kind of spring I remember as being good for them. The past few years things were too dry and wood's growth well started before mushroom time. This year with things being held back by cold weather, might be just what we needed.

With the nice weather we have in store for us now, I hope to get out and do some exploring, finding some of the old town sites and places I've heard of but have never seen. Even places I once knew have now changed so much it's like you never saw them before. Today I visited the old dam near Frederic. As a kid I spent a lot of time there. At that time the Frederic Sportsman Club did a lot of work rebuilding the dam, putting in a wooden bridge and even a diving board in the deeper water above the dam. On a large boulder they had placed a bronze plate dedicated to Rube Babbit, our first Game Warden and his contributions to the cause of conservation. Vandals of course had to steal that bronze plate in a short time and the Frederic Sportsmen Club died out over the years. Bill Leng had been one of the men who devoted time and effort to try to keep the club going. When Bill died there seemed to be no one to take his place and the club dried up. Today there is hardly a sign of their efforts at the old dam. Even the old river bed has changed. It was like I had never seen it before. As I say, the times keep a'changing.

The original dam there had been to form a mill pond for the lumber mill that once was a real going thing. The jack pine plantations there cover what once was a thriving community. Milltown at one time was a community of the workers of the old mill. Many folks still have pleasant memories of their childhood spent there.

The temptation was strong, but the Detroit coach said "no, thanks." Why?

"The bottom line was I'd be walking out on a job and I didn't want that," said Mr. Birdsong. "It got down to a thing like signing a kid a week ago and going back to tell that kid I'm leaving... That seemed a little bit deceitful to me..."

"I promised these players I'd coach them, and you've got to do what you say you're going to do. I'm young enough that money can't be the issue right now... There are bigger things now."

In my book, one of those bigger things is Ricky Birdsong's stature.

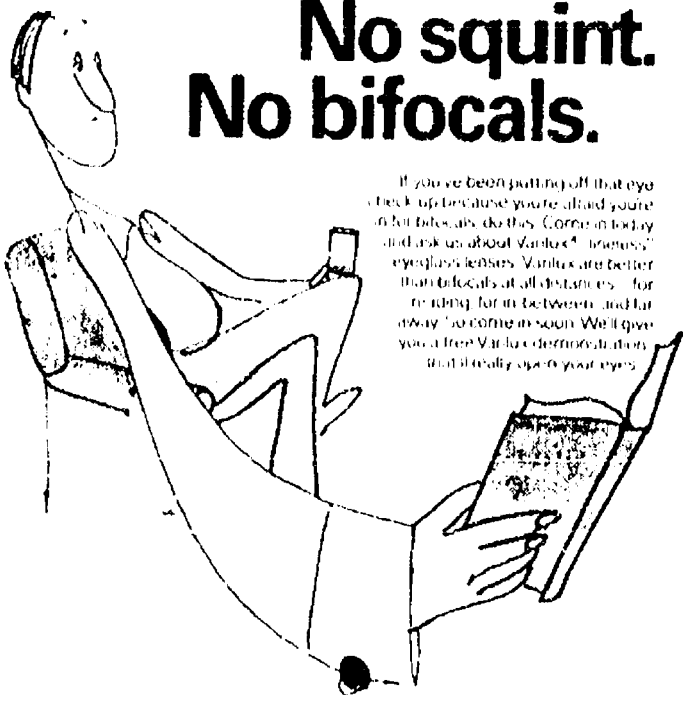

ONE MORE EXAMPLE — Blair Bush, a center for football's Green Bay Packers, has asked to renegotiate his contract with the Packers, not unusual in professional sports for players who try to get as much money as they can while the getting is good.

But Blair Bush wants to lower his salary. At 33, he has been in the league for 12 years, and wants to slow down. He said he wants to play less next season and figured it was only fair that he receive a smaller paycheck. Mr. Bush is due to receive $400,000 in base pay next season.

It's still up in the air what will happen between Mr. Bush and the Packers. There's precious little precedent to follow in such negotiations. But Blair Bush deserves lots of credit; his attitude is commendable.

Let's hope Jeff George and other emerging athletic millionaires become more of a Birdsong or a Bush than a Barkley.

Trout Opener

West, agreed with Stephan's summary, stating that successes on the opening weekend appeared to be hit or miss on the rivers, but said bait fishing on the lakes was "wild."

Walleyes and northern pike were being caught with minnows on Lake Margrethe and Skip said Blue Gills were abundant in the shallows and were caught with flies and bait. He said fishermen were using minnows to catch walleyes and croppies on Manistee Lake and there was good trolling on Bear Lake for brown trout.

"Generally, fishermen on the rivers made some nice catches during Hendrickson hatches," he said, "but unfortunately the hatches were short lived, only 45 minutes or so."

One pair of fishermen from Miland, south of Ann Arbor, who waded from Burtons Landing to Keystone, catching three or four brookies in a cloud of Hendrickson, stated it was probably the best opener they had fished in several years. They were staying in the area to fish until Wednesday.

A Traverse City man said he had been out Saturday morning and never felt a tug. He said while he was out, he did not see another fisherman and that while he was working in the front of his cottage repairing his well, he had not seen a single riverboat or canoe of fishermen go by.

Bob Smock was unable to fish opening weekend, but said a couple fishermen from Wa Wa Sun came into his shop for flies and said they had caught and released 11 or 12 fish.

According to Smock, most hatches occurred between Burtons Landing and Stephens Bridge. He said it sounded like a half-way decent opener with most fish caught during Hendrickson hatches.

Despite the beautiful weather with sunny skies and temperatures reaching into the 80's, DNR Officer Patrick said he did not see the numbers of people usually here for the trout opener. He said he could not explain why.

Patrick said there were some good hatches on the South Branch and the Mason Track and fishermen there did "reasonably well."

On the mainstream, he said the quality waters were heavily used, but there was only light pressure on the remaining stretches of the river.

Bait fishing, especially around the Deward area, lacked the expected opening day pressure as well, and Patrick said for the most part, fishermen did not do well there either.

Patrick summed up the weekend by saying, "If you were in the right spot at the right time, you caught fish, if you weren't, you didn't."

Hagon Attends Rural Electric Youth Days

Lana Hagon

Students who represented Top O' Michigan Electric Co. at the 1990 Michigan Rural Electric Youth Days program April 25-17 near Cadillac were Lana Hagon of Grayling, Mary Ann Peterson of Morenci, and Tracy Capelin of Boyne City.

Students were selected by Top O' Michigan based on their interest in cooperatives and leadership potential. They were among some 50 students representing electric cooperatives across the state participating in this year's program. Students toured the Wolverine Power Supply Cooperative Energy Control Center, participated in a mock cooperative board of directors, and were involved in other cooperative education sessions.

A Grayling High School senior, Lana plans to pursue a business management career following graduation. She has been a member of the National Honor Society for two years. She also participated in the 4-H foreign exchange summer camp in 1988. Her hobbies include music and drama.

Top O' Michigan is a electric cooperative owned by the more than 40,000 members it serves in 12 northwestern lower Michigan Counties.

State's Environmental Quality Index Reveals Gains and Disappointments

Despite modest gains posted in several categories of Michigan's environmental profile in 1989, overall advances in the quality of the state's environment were minimal at best, according to the eleventh annual Michigan Environmental Quality Index compiled by the state's largest conservation organization - Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC).

est conservation organization - Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC). Published in the premier issue of Tachon Terra, MUCC's new, bimonthly, 48-page environmental magazine, the EQ Index pointed to improvements in four of the seven categories analyzed, including a two-point gain in Wildlife, and one-point gains in the categories of Outdoor Recreation, Fish, and Energy.

Particularly disturbing was the establishment of a record low rating in the category of Lands and Forests, which dropped two points. In addition, the EQ Index noted a decline of two points in the state's Water quality, and a drop of one point in Air quality.

"1989 was not a good year for the management of our state's natural resources or the restoration of our state's environmental quality," declared Thomas L. Washington, MUCC executive director. "The downward trend we've noted in some of these categories in recent years should sound a distressing alarm to Michigan's citizens."

The four categories which registered gains in 1989 include:

Wildlife—posted a gain of two points, giving it a rating of 80 out of a possible 100. Notable improvements in wildlife habitat, coupled with improved populations of nongame species, contributed to the gains in this category.

Fisheries—increased one point, from 78 to 79, out of a possible 100. Despite problems with the salmonid fishery and the continued invasion of exotic species into the Great Lakes, significant gains in the walleye fishery and promising initiatives by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources Fisheries Division combined to end the 1980s on an upswing.

Energy—increased one point, from 47 to 48, to establish a record high in the category for the decade. Renewed citizen concern about personal energy usage, coupled with the increased use of recycled materials in the manufacture of consumer goods, contributed to the slight gain in this category.

Outdoor Recreation—registered a gain of one point from 85 to 86, due primarily to the restoration of state and local park systems under the "Quality of Life" bonding program.

Three categories measured by the EQ Index registered declines in 1989, including:

Water—dropped two points to a score of 71, due principally to heightened problems with combined sewer overflows, continued loss of critical wetlands, and ill-enforced state water quality standards.

Lands and Forests—declined two points to 61, thus establishing a record low for this category. Unbridled development in key urban areas, the failure of the DNR to quickly develop state forest management plans, and the dwindling supply of wetlands contributed to this important category.

Air—received a rating of 72, down one point from 1988, due to increases in acid rain and continued problems with emissions from the state's municipal trash incinerators.

Data used in determining the EQ Index ratings are provided by authorities on the environment and natural resources in both the public and private sectors. The data are evaluated by members of the MUCC resource management, environmental protection, and education staffs who prepare individual reports on the seven categories.

Single copies of the EQ Index are available by writing MUCC, P.O. Box 30235, Lansing, MI 48909, and enclosing a stamped (25-cents), self-addressed, business-size envelope. Contact MUCC regarding costs for multiple copies.

MUCC is the largest non-profit state federation of conservation and outdoor recreation organizations in America. It is dedicated to furthering the cause of the environment and conservation and to promoting programs designed to educate citizens in natural resource conservation and environmental protection and enhancement.

The 4-H Nature Club as pictured above had their Parent's Night on March 26th. There were 33 parents and children attending and awards were given out to each for individual growth in the club. They all did a great job. Attention! Coming for all eight to 13 year olds -- Youth softball. Watch for a flyer in the next couple of weeks through the school. This is in cooperation with the Grayling Recreation Authority.

Another club is starting up and more members are needed. It will be called Meat Processing and you can call Mr. Forbush at 348-5149.

This week's featured club is the Caged Bird Club with Shirley Scott. She has three members right now but you can join anytime. You must be 4th grade and up. It is also helpful to have your own bird but not necessary. They meet once a month in her home, tension 264. You must register every year so come early. There will be a cost involved for shirt and cap and the price will be available at registration.

Shirley does show birds so you can get involved in that too. She mainly covers taming, training, health, nutrition, breeding, and genetics.

Some of the birds she works with are: Budgies (parakeets), all types of finches, lovebirds, canaries, Red Rumps, and Weavers, which is a type of bird related to the sparrow family. It sounds like a real exciting club. Give her a call at 348-8155.

We have been having a fantastic response to this article and I want to thank you all for the comments and suggestions.

T-Ball registration is now open through the end of May. It is for ages six and seven (must be six before July 31st and cannot have turned eight before July 31st). It is limited to 90 participants and will be on a first come basis. There will be a waiting list so please call the Cooperative Extension Office at 348-2841, ex-

Celebrity Bartenders Donate

The Copper Kettle of Grayling was recently the site of novelty fund-raising efforts for two worthwhile causes: "Celebrity Bartenders" work during a social hour of fun and community fellowship. Any tips generated during the events are dedicated to a pre-announced charity or need. One recipient of these fund-and-fund raisers has been the U.S. Canoe and Kayak Team.

Grayling resident Brett Stockton is now practicing with team hopefuls in Melbourne, Florida, in preparation for the 1992 Olympic events. Camp Grayling Command Sergeant Major Harold "Tyke" Golnick worked as a celebrity bartender, along with Camp Commander, Lieutenant Colonel Wayne Koppa.

Kenquest House of Grayling has also received funds raised in this way. The residential treatment center for teenage mothers has waiting lists for such donated funds. Community members have responded generously at these events, say the Copper Kettle's owners, Erna and Rod Hogan, and have lots of fun too.

Grand Slam Home Run Wins Game for Vikings

Mick McKinney hit a grand slam home run to give the Grayling Vikings their first win of the 1990 season April 9 against Houghton Lake.

McKinney gave Grayling a 4-0 lead in the first inning of the second game of a doubleheader. The Vikings went on to win 6-4 in four innings of a game called because of darkness. Brian Palmer picked up the victory.

In the first game, Jim Abney gave up only 3 hits but the Vikings gave up 8 unearned runs to lose 8-7.

Grayling trailed 6-2 in the sixth inning when they rallied for 5 runs to take a 7-6 lead. Houghton Lake used two errors in the seventh to win the game.

Brian Palmer had 2 hits and 3 stolen bases to lead the Vikings.

Against Gaylord on April at the Cornell Field behind the Grayling High School, the Vikings lost 8-6 in the first game and won 13-3 in the second game.

Abney struck out 7, gave up 6 hits and only one earned run. Grayling took a 4-3 lead in the third after Scott Nicholas, Joel Mack, and Palmer singled, McKinney reached base on an error, and Tim Hough singled to score four runs.

Gaylord tied the game 4-4 in the fifth inning. Hough and John Jurkovich scored for Grayling in the bottom of the fifth to regain the lead 5-4.

Gaylord went ahead 8-5 in the sixth and Palmer led off the bottom of the sixth with a home run for the final score.

In the second game, Palmer again picked up the victory and led the hitting with two singles and a double. Nicholas added three singles.

Wolcott said his team will try to pick it up defensively for the next games. Grayling played Petoskey at home Tuesday, May 1, travels to West Branch Thursday, May 3, and plays Cheboygan at home Tuesday, May 8.

Wolcott said Abney has pitched well in two games but hasn't received the defensive support he needs. Palmer has led the hitting with 9 of 15. Joel Mack is 5 of 12 and Nicholas is 5 of 14.

The Vikings are 2-2 and have only three seniors on the squad, their three top pitchers, Abney, Palmer, and Jurkovich.

I Am With You Always

To those I love and those who love me. When I am gone, release me, let me go, I have so many things to see and do. You mustn't tie yourself to me with tears. Be happy that we had so many years. I gave you my love, you can only guess. How much you gave me in happiness. I thank you for the love you each have shown. But now it's time I travel alone. So grieve for a while if grieve you must. Then let your grief comforted by trust. It's only for a while that we must part, so bless the memories within your heart. I won't be far away, for life goes on. So if you need me, call and I will come. Tough you can't see or touch me, I'll be near. And if you listen with your heart, all of my love around you, soft and clear. And then when you must come this way alone, I'll greet you with a smile and "Welcome Home".

Sincere thanks and appreciation to Michigan Home Health Care, Dr. Gosling, McNamara, and Berkley, Mercy Hospital and staff - Crawford County Ambulance, Grayling Youth Booster Club, Hospice of Crawford County, and our many friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown to us these past five months. Your prayers and concern has helped so much at this difficult time.

Knights of Columbus Collect $2173 for Mentally Retarded

The Father John J. Riess of the Grayling Knights of Columbus Council 1982 collected $2,173.22 in the recent three-day drive to assist the mentally retarded, Ed Martella, Grand Knight of the Council announced.

The local contributions are part of a statewide effort which the last two years reached over $1,000,000. The total brings to over $10,986,728.38 collected by the Knights of Columbus in the 14 year history of the Drive.

Eighty percent of the net income from the donations is retained by the local council for distribution to area groups and agencies. The rest is forwarded to the State Council of the Knights of Columbus to meet expenses of the Program and to make donations in behalf of all the 73,000 Knights in Michigan.

Under the Program, which is carried out in most of the 299 Knights of Columbus Councils in Michigan, people are asked to donate money to the mentally retarded and are given a Tootsie Roll Candy in appreciation of the gift. Locally, ROOC Inc. and COOR Special Olympics will receive contributions.

"I know that the benefacting agencies are grateful for the generosity of so many people," Martella said. "Through the gifts of the contributors, many mentally retarded persons will have services and equipment available to make their lives more rewarding."

Co-Chairmen of the local campaign were Ed D'Felio & Jerry Fagan.

Of the approximately 24,000 entries received annually, only 480 are chosen as regional semifinalists. The field is then narrowed to 96 super semifinalists. And finally to 12 finalists. The finalists receive an all-expense paid trip to the National Finals.

The 1990 Great Model Search winner will receive a $5,000 cash award from Maybelline (R) and will appear in a national Maybelline ad. A trip for two to a resort area, a wardrobe of elegant formal, and modeling opportunities with the program's sponsors will also be given to the winner.

The winner will appear on the cover of the October issue of 'TEEN. If Mandee wins, she could be in a long line of successful models who have launched their careers on 'TEEN's cover. Past 'TEEN discoveries include Cheryl Tiegs, Cristina Ferrare and Kelly Harmon.

'TEEN Magazine, a Petersen Publication, serves 4.4 million readers — about one-third of all high-school girls. Micek is the daughter of Jerry and Dee Micek.

Bits of Talk

Dottie and Olie Williamson, who now make their home at the Masonic Home in Alma wish to say "hello" to all of their Grayling friends. They are in good health and very active.

David Hunter, son of the late Rex Hunter, has now moved to Grayling and is employed at Mercy Hospital as a lab technician.

Whitey and Thelma Madsen spent from the middle of March to the middle of April visiting their family. They spent time in Amherst, Ohio, with Toni and John Dyke, TJ and Stefany, and then went to Henderson, Nevada, to spend ten days with Dane and Cyd Madsen and Amber. They returned to Amherst again before coming home. Besides teaching drama, Dane and Cyd are sometimes hired to critique plays.

Jerome Kesseler returned home on Saturday from Munson Medical Center where he had been for a month following several surgeries. Roger and Phyllis Kesseler came from Midland to bring him home.

Bob and Fay Bovee returned last Friday night from a two week vacation spent in Europe. They flew from Traverse City to Geneva and drove to Chamonix, France. The reason for their trip was to attend the marriage of their daughter, Dena Bovee to Bruce Goll in a civil ceremony in Martigny, Switzerland, on April 17, 1990. The Bovees spent four days in Chamonix where they were greeted with six inches of snow on Easter morning. After leaving there, they traveled through Switzerland to Heilbronn, Germany, where in the nearby town of Mockmuhl they spent several hours with cousins whom they had never met and who had been East German refugees during the 40's. At Volklingen, near Saarbrücken, they were able to obtain a birth certificate for Helene Thinnies Stephan, who had emigrated to Crawford County in 1879. In northern France they visited Gisors, Rouen, and St. Lubin des Joncherets where they sought other family records. Returning to Ferney-Voltaire, France, they enjoyed a city tour of Geneva before flying home via Zurich and Chicago.

Blood Donors Help 4 Ways

The Crawford County American Red Cross will have a Blood Drive on Wednesday, May 2, 1990, at the Grayling High School Gym, from 9:00 a.m. to 2:45 p.m.

Dial-A-Ride, 348-5409, will pick you up and take you back home, without charge, if you come to donate a pint.

Did you know that every pint of blood you donate can help as many as four other people? The Plasma can help a burn or a shock victim. The red cells can restore an accident victim or a surgical patient. Still other parts can help someone with a rare disease. That's a lot of power in one pint.

12 alternatives to lashing out at your kid.

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out—STOP! And try any of these simple alternatives.

You'll feel better . . . and so will your child.

1. Take a deep breath. And another. Then remember you are the adult . . .
2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
3. Press your lips together and count to 10. Or better yet, to 20.
4. Put your child in a time-out chair. (Remember the rule: one time-out minute for each year of age.)
5. Put yourself in a time-out chair. Think about why you are angry: Is it your child, or is your child simply a convenient target for your anger?
6. Phone a friend.
7. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
8. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
9. Hug a pillow.
10. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
11. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.
12. Write for prevention information: National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 2866L, Chicago, IL 60690.

Stop using words that hurt.
Start using words that help.

By Bruce Patrick,
Conservation Officer

In any one place the populations of different plants and animals are interrelated to constitute a biotic community or ecosystem. Each member in the population has its ups and downs, and their changes effect other parts of the community. Some communities - a pond, river, or a fallen log - are easy to visualize and define, but others such as a lake shore or ocean beach may merge with adjacent communities. Some large, free-range ing animals such as coyotes and deer may have their headquarters in one kind of community but often make use of others.

The edge, or place where communities meet and merge, is a mixture of organisms from both communities and is extensively used by many animals.

Any community is a rather self-contained organic unit, with plants and animals living together in an interdependent manner. As in a human community these members are specialized and have certain "jobs", producers, consumers and decomposers - and are organized into a complex food web.

Larger communities of both land and water exhibit stratification. A forest has characteristic animals of the tree-tops, lower branches, bark, leaf litter, and soil. A lake or pond has surface dwellers, others in intermediate depths and bottom dwellers.

In any community one or a few species are dominant over others and can control other inhabitants. For example, in a pine forest, the pine tree is dominant and through shading and production of an acidic leaf carpet limits the growth of other plants. Because other plants are absent, only those animals adapted to living in a pine community are in residence.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

I will remind you again before the 17th of May, but for now this is an invitation that I hope you will mark on your calendar. The Friends of the Hartwick Pines will be gathering at 7:30 p.m., that evening, for a walk through the Pines. Oh, I know you have taken the walk before, but the return trip from the logging camp will be guided by the light from a kerosene lantern, (no flashlights please) and that makes it different.

Some of my job revolves around magic and secrets which I would like very much to share with you. There aren't any slights of hand involved, only the secrets the Pines wish to share. Some of the magic you will bring and some of the secrets you will discover without any help from me.

It will be a leisurely walk, so you do not have to wear your running shoes, but it may be cool, so wear something comfortable. By the way, you don't have to be a member of the Friends group to join us. This is an open invitation and the secrets aren't X-rated, so bring the kids. The Pines are just spooky enough at night to make things interesting, so why not join us?

We will recognize Mrs. Margaret Fenton who is retiring this year after 32 years here in our Grayling Schools. I would say she has been one of our favorite teachers. We could almost call her an honorary member of our Alumni, since her husband, Elmer, is of the class of '29, and her daughters have all graduated here, Carol '60, Donna '63, (Roy Milnes Award) and Nancy '66.

A group of 29 parents and teachers at a combined potluck dinner and meeting Monday evening, April 24, decided to disband the Crawford-AuSable PTA, by a vote of 12 to 8 on a secret ballot. The vote came as a climax to discussions over a period of months on ways to improve attendance. Some reluctance to taking the extreme step was expressed but it was not strong enough to overbalance the apparent lack of interest. It was ironic that the disbandment followed a treasurer's report showing the PTA Fun Festival had netted $602.73 profit, according to preliminary reports. No action was taken on disposal of funds at this time.

46 Years Ago May 4, 1944

One of the most interesting stories we've heard in a coon's age is one with the Manistee River as the locale: A group guided by Fred Bromwell from the Arrowhead really meant business. Rolly McClain of Houghton Lake hauled in a 9-lb. rainbow trout with the help of another man. Hissister, Bertha Dannenberg, who had never gone a-fishing landed a 6 lbs. rainbow trout. Two other rainbows were caught which weighed 5 lbs. each.

Robert Bugby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eggie Bugby landed a 22-inch rainbow that weighed 5 pounds; he was fishing in the East Branch.

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

THE SPECIAL OLYMPICS

There are some very special people That have needs the same as you and I Winning or losing is not important All they ask is a chance to try

The Special Olympics gives them their chance To enjoy their moment in the sun In happy competition with others As they show how they can jump and run

Here they learn the joy of victory As they proudly claim their prize With a proud, happy look on their faces And a look of great joy in their eyes

They have so little to bring them joy That to deny them this pleasure would be a shame So let's support the Special Olympics And give them a chance at fame

The look of joy upon their face As they share in all the fun Is pay enough for all our effort And the hard work we have done

Anyone who helps in any way To make the Special Olympics go Wins a lot of love and affection From these special folks that let it show

Animal Care Tip

Thinking about getting a pet dog? The Humane Society of the United States suggests that you keep the following in mind: Make sure you're ready, willing and able to take on the commitment. Having a dog is fun, but it's also a responsibility. Buying a purebred? Inspect the kennel and meet your prospective pet's parents. Make certain your puppy was raised properly and in humane surroundings.

Try to buy from a local breeder. You'll probably pay less because there's no middleman. Also you can see for yourself that your chosen dog hasn't come from an inhumane "puppy mill," a mass breeding farm in which adult dogs live in misery as puppy-producing machines.

If you don't need a purebred, the local animal shelter always has many homeless animals up for adoption. Often, there are puppies that strongly resemble and have characteristics of an AKC breed.

The Bible Speaks

I John Part # 1 Introduction

You remember that John's gospel was "...written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name." (John 20:31). The key verse of I John is I John 5:13: "These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God." The word "know" is found dozens of times in I John and assures us as believers how we can have complete assurance concerning our relationship to God. Fundamental Bible Christianity is the true salvation which can and does make such claims. All other religions promote a "think so", "hope so", "maybe so" religion. True salvation is based upon the grace and mercy of God, while religions are based upon human merit and sacrifice.

We know that we know God by our relationship to His word, (I John 2:3-5), and His Spirit. (I John 4:13). "And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life." (I John 5:20).

We know God is righteous and righteousness characterizes those born into His family. (I John 2:29). We know that this righteous God came to take away our sins. (I John 3:5). We know we dwell in Him and He in us by His Spirit. (I John 3:24). We can distinguish the Spirit of God from the false spirits by acceptance or rejection of the incarnation of Jesus Christ. (I John 4:2).

From Calvary Baptist Church

We know we are following the truth of God by the witness of His Holy Spirit, (I John 2:20, 21); by our acceptance of the Bible, (I John 4:6, 3:19), and by answered prayers. (I John 5:15).

We know we have assurance of salvation not only by believing the scriptures, (I John 5:13), but by our obedience of the scriptures, (I John 5:12), by our personal holiness of life, (I John 5:18), and by our love of other such believers. (I John 3:14, 15).

As believers we also know about some future events. We will know the "last time" by an increase of antichrists. (I John 2:18). We know that we shall have a glorified body just like Jesus Christ at His return. (I John 3:2).

We pray this introduction will encourage you to study I John with us to gain assurance in your Christian life of the many things God wants you to KNOW FOR SURE.

Be still and know...

It is early morning at the shore. I venture out alone to watch the sun rise orange over the sea. As I walk I leave a track of footprints in the sand. I stop and listen. It is perfectly quiet. But as I look farther out to sea, the water is starting to swell until it can no longer contain itself. A mighty wave erupts and crashes on the shore.
 Again, all is quiet. I turn and walk back the way I came. My footprints are no longer there. I start over, leaving new footprints.
 As a wave quietly builds, then crashes on the shore, wiping away old footprints, God's quiet strength can wipe away old mistakes and regrets. You can start anew.
 This week, worship God in prayer and meditation. In His word, we are encouraged to...

Dear Sir,

I am writing in response to the newspaper ad you placed in the Crawford County Avalanche. I am a local business man and I feel that I may have a need for your services. I am just starting a new business, and would like to have you design a logo and a letterhead for my stationery. From what I have heard about you, I am sure that I have talked to a professional.

Hospital To Help River House And Pay Tribute to Dr. Oppy

Mercy Hospital/Grayling celebrates National Hospitals Week, May 6-12, with a series of activities planned around the national theme, "Count On Us To Care." "A hospital takes 'care' of its community with countless health and information services for local residents and area businesses," said Dennis Renander, President and Chief Executive Officer of Mercy Hospital. "We also have a positive impact on the economic health of the Grayling community, patronizing local businesses and supporting community projects."

ers, sets of dishes, light bulbs, and games and crafts for children. For more information, contact the Community Relations Office at 348-5461, ext. 368.

Special events that demonstrate this commitment include a Spring Shower for River House Shelter, the domestic violence shelter program sponsored by Mercy Hospital. Members of the public are asked to drop by their donations of small household goods for the battered women at the shelter who are beginning to set up new households. Volunteers in the Mercy Hospital Auxiliary will act as hostesses, serving refreshments when individuals drop by with their donations.

Mercy Hospital will also honor Charles Oppy, M.D., with a tree planting ceremony in tribute to him on Thursday, May 10 at 2 p.m. A Colorado blue spruce tree will be dedicated to Dr. Oppy, who retired from Mercy Hospital two years ago. In the future, the tree will be illuminated during Christmastime during the Mercy Auxiliary's Lights of Love tree project. Oppy, a general practitioner for 33 years, also served Mercy Hospital patients for 33 years. Mercy Hospital will also honor its employees during National Hospital Week with special events and recognition programs. A service awards banquet will be held Monday, May 9, for employees who have served 10 years or more at the hospital.

Local Nurses Honored For Contributions

On Monday, May 7, the nurses at Mercy Hospital/Grayling will take part in the nationwide celebration of National Nurses' Day. The day is set aside to recognize the outstanding contributions of more than two million registered nurses in this profession.

At Mercy Hospital nurses are being recognized for their role in enhancing and promoting health care and the well-being of patients and family members during emotionally and physically debilitating times.

In the next decade, there will be a need for 600,000 more nurses. The role of the nurse has changed throughout the years. Today, nurses work in various areas of hospital and community: Medical, Surgical, Obstetrics, Mercy Manor, Critical Care, Emergency, Ambulatory Surgery, Medical Records, Management, Instruction, Infection Control, Discharge Planning, Utilization Review, Home Care, Physicians Offices, Hospice, Parish Nurse, Public Health, and Community Mental Health.

Nurses at Mercy Hospital have planned a week of activities in celebration of Nurses Week and Nurses Day. Children at Grayling Elementary School and the Mercy Child Care Center have created drawings on their perception of nurses that will be displayed at Mercy Hospital and in various businesses in the community. Many local businesses have also shown their support of Nurses Day.

"With the continuation of a nationwide nursing shortage and the increasing demands for the nursing services, members of our profession must be together in caring now more than ever," said Noreen Davis, Vice President of Patient Care Services and Operations at Mercy Hospital. "As technology has increased, so have the responsibilities of nurses everywhere. It is important for people to understand that nurses today must have a unique combination of qualities: clinical knowledge, sound judgment, and the ability to care."

Davis said that ANA and the state associations are working to combat the shortage and misperceptions about nurses. The Michigan Nurses' Association, along with ANA, has been a leader in identifying solutions to resolving the shortage, improving nurses' salaries and working conditions, and providing a greater role for nurses in decision making processes.

"With the financial support of nursing groups, The W.K. Kellogg Foundation, The Pew Charitable Trusts of Philadelphia, and others, organized nursing, and The Advertising Council are increasing public awareness of the nursing profession," Davis said. "To date, health care organizations have donated more than $425,000 for the production of print and electronic advertisements." The two-year, multimedia campaign is designed to combat the nursing shortage by raising public awareness of the value of nurses' contributions, enhancing the perception of nursing as a desirable career, and highlighting career opportunities.

"We have evidence that this project and our local efforts to recruit and retain nurses are making an impact in our state and at Mercy Health Services North," said Davis.

Teamwork Program Offered Free To Local Merchants

T.E.A.M. (Together, Employee And Merchant), is a new marketing and management concept developed by the Grayling Chamber of Commerce to help increase individual store sales.

This free program is aimed at motivating and educating sales associates along with providing feedback and rewards for successful sales performance.

The 1990 T.E.A.M. program will offer monthly seminars and "After Hours" gatherings. The seminars will offer information regarding Crawford County's history and current resources to be able to help customers' questions about lodging, dining, shopping, recreation and entertainment. Elements of good merchandizing such as floor displays, suggestive selling, add-on sales, and customer sales will be addressed as well as the subjects of attitude, self-esteem, and motivation.

The first T.E.A.M. program meeting will take place at 8 a.m. Tuesday, May 8, at the Chief Shoppenagons' Hotel. An introduction to the T.E.A.M. concept will be given.
